

Top Ten things the Partnership can do for you...

Private sector (for profit or non-profit)

- ◆ Provide a process for removing impediments to rural development.
- ◆ Help identify long-range opportunities for rural development.
- ◆ Provide technical assistance to help you with a development problem.
- ◆ Develop professional networks.
- ◆ Give you a chance to discover rural Wisconsin's diverse cultures and geography.
- ◆ Provide opportunities to learn more about rural issues and how they affect you.
- ◆ Gain a better understanding of public policy development.
- ◆ Increase input into public policy processes.
- ◆ Increase the visibility of the rural Wisconsin business climate.
- ◆ Increase access to government programs.

Public sector (federal, state, tribal and local)

- ◆ Provide access to other agencies and organizations with similar characteristics, missions and goals.
- ◆ Develop support systems and technical exchange among and between levels of government.
- ◆ Identify areas of duplication among and between levels of government.
- ◆ Keep you abreast of rural development issues, trends, and needs.
- ◆ Develop collaborative partnerships to increase the value of public resources.
- ◆ Provide audiences to help educate and implement new or revised public programs.
- ◆ Provide access to private sector businesses and organizations that can help build more effective public policy, programs and services.
- ◆ Increase access to rural customers.
- ◆ Give you a chance to discover rural Wisconsin's diverse cultures and geography.
- ◆ Develop rural markets for programs and services.